Chocolate Pudding

If consumed in small doses it's perfectly fine to enjoy a bit of chocolate treat every now and again while on a diet. Here is one such recipe that you can try.

Serves: 6

Time: 20 mins

Ingredients:

- 6 ounces semisweet or bittersweet chocolate, chopped
- ½ ounce unsweetened chocolate, chopped
- 6 tablespoons stevia
- 1½ cups light cream
- 4 large egg yolks, at room temperature and whisked in a small bowl
- 1 tablespoon vanilla extract
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Directions:

1.Preparing the Ingredients. Place all the chopped chocolate and the stevia in a bowl.

2. Add cream to a saucepan over low heat and warm until small bubbles fizz around the inside edge of the pan.
3. Pour the warmed cream over the chocolate; whisk so that the chocolate completely melts. Cool a minute or two, then whisk in the yolks, vanilla, and salt.
4. Pour the mixture into six ½-cup heat-safe ramekins, filling each about three-quarters full. Cover each with foil.
5. Set the rack in the Pressure Cooker; pour in 2 cups water. Set the ramekins on the rack, stacking them as necessary without any one ramekin sitting directly on top of another.
6. High pressure for 15 minutes. Lock the lid on the Pressure Cooker and then cook for 15 minutes. To get 15-minutes cook time and then adjust button.
7. Pressure Release Turn off the Pressure Cooker or unplug it so it doesn't flip to its keep-warm setting. Then let its pressure naturally return to normal, 10 to 14 minutes.
8. Finish the dish. Unlock and open the cooker. Transfer the hot ramekins to a cooling rack, uncover, and cool for 10 minutes before serving—or chill in the refrigerator for up to 3 days, covering again once the puddings have chilled.

About the Author

Martha is a chef and a cookbook author. She has had a love of all things culinary since she was old enough to help in the kitchen, and hasn't wanted to leave the kitchen since. She was born and raised in Illinois, and grew up on a farm, where she acquired her love for fresh, delicious foods. She learned many of her culinary abilities from her mother; most importantly, the need to cook with fresh, homegrown ingredients if at all possible, and how to create an amazing recipe that everyone wants. This gave her the perfect way to share her skill with the world; writing cookbooks to spread the message that fresh, healthy food really can, and does, taste delicious. Now that she is a mother, it is more important than ever to make sure that healthy food is available to the next generation. She hopes to become a household name in cookbooks for her delicious recipes, and healthy outlook.

Martha is now living in California with her high school sweetheart, and now husband, John, as well as their infant daughter Isabel, and two dogs; Daisy and Sandy. She is a stay at home mom, who is very much looking forward to expanding their family in the next few years to give their daughter some siblings. She enjoys cooking with, and for, her family and friends, and is waiting impatiently for the day she can start cooking with her daughter.
